Contractual Disputes

Contractual disputes need careful handling because of the recent increases in the small claims limits, where you cannot recover legal costs even if you win, to £10,000 in most cases. Often a well drafted protocol letter can lead the way to a resolution. If matters go ahead we know the best way to prepare for hearings, and have contacts with local barristers and other experts who may be needed to bring things to a successful conclusion.
